Disclaimer, Terms & Conditions, Refund Policy.

Disclaimer: I understand that all advice given on this retreat programme is not medical advice and will not be considered as such. I understand that in agreeing to attend this retreat programme I take full responsibility for myself and my health, and as such I will not hold Maria E. Brizuela or anyone representing Beautifully Balanced or Wonder Women Events responsible for any injury or issue which I may have during or after the retreat programme. I understand that I have been advised to seek medical clearance before altering my diet or my exercise programs.

Terms & Conditions: I understand this is a health retreat and as such I agree not to bring alcohol or any drugs (other than medicines prescribed to me) to the retreat. I also understand that if I am currently a smoker, I may smoke outside, but that I need to be at least 10 metres from any building, and take care to completely extinguish my cigarette, and bring it back into the house and ensure 100% safe disposal. In relation to the covid pandemic, I understand that I need to fill in a covid questionnaire 24 hrs prior to arrival and that my temperature will be taken on arrival, and that I may be refused entry if I arrive with symptoms resembling covid.

Refund Policy: In line with ACCC rulings in general and those currently in place regarding cancelled events, please be notified that we do not offer refunds for any reason (other than those we are legally bound by under Australian Consumer Law). Beautifully Balanced is a small boutique business, with its own daily running costs, and not in a position to offer refunds irrespective of COVID conditions and circumstances – especially in light of the fact that the venue does not offer the organizer a refund either – only a rescheduling of the event. Should the organizer or the venue be unable to fulfil its promise to the purchaser, or Queensland go into a stage 4 lockdown, we would offer to postpone your retreat to a new booking date but we will not refund. Should the purchaser be unable to participate for any reason, we will not offer a refund. We may, at our discretion, possibly offer the purchaser another spot on another retreat, and this decision lies with the organizer, whose decision is final and no correspondence on this matter will be entered into.
